

Field Goods is an e-commerce farmers market

Shop online for local produce and farm products by local entrepreneurs. Curated Farm Bags change weekly and tips and recipes make it fun and easy to eat healthy food. Most of what we serve is organic and transparently sourced from 60 local farms mostly in the Hudson River Valley.

We support our communities, healthy eating, and sustainable agriculture.

we deliver to people's homes, private, and public sites

Nothing beats the convenience of having the healthiest foods delivered to your doorstep. Especially when driving to the supermarket seems like the last thing in the world you want to do.

We work with many HR departments and their office wellness initiatives. There's no obligation or cost to your organization. Field Goods service is usually introduced to employees by HR and wellness committees as a readymade wellness program.

We love our public sites! Pickup at your local YMCA after your workout. Healthy habits! Pickup at your local library after your kid's story hour. After school, pickup your kid and your Field Goods delivery at the same time! Pickup at your favorite garden center when you're fussing with your trees and shrubs.

Field Goods gives back to the communities it serves

Field Goods Gives is a program that contributes directly to organizations, like libraries and schools, to support their missions, programming, or special causes. To encourage participation, we offer customers a $20 discount.

a super fantabulous rewards program

Get rewarded on your birthday or even for just visiting our website. Sometimes you may wonder why you're getting rewarded in the first place. . . like trying new foods and making a dinner for two at home and sending us a picture.

Field Goods health and wellness initiatives

Earn discounts and rewards for things you're probably doing anyway . . . like going for long walks or working out at the gym.

learn more

Feel free to contact Donna. donnawilliams@field-goods.com

