

Here are the top five things we think you should know about the Mount:

1. You won't blend in: If you're looking for a big school where you can be anonymous, this isn't it. Student to faculty ratios are 13:1 with an average 20 students in each class. Your professors will not only know your name, but also your career aspirations and be actively working with you to help you achieve them.
2. Speaking of our faculty, you'll enjoy getting to learn from professors who have real experience in the field. They aren't just teachers; they're professionals in their field who are excited to share their passion with you and teach you what you really need to know.
3. Your degree on your schedule: Pick from evening and online classes to fit your schedule. Some programs even have 8-week class sessions, which means you can enroll at six different times during the year.
4. Student support: As a graduate student, you have access to the same student support services as our undergraduates, including a free Writing Center, Career Center, Library, Counseling services, and more.
5. We're going to help you change the world: We see the spark in our students, and we help them set the world on fire with their talents. What we specialize in here at the Mount is taking those talents and skills you have and instilling the confidence you need to make a difference with them.
